

Rahul Gandhi's Colombian drug cartel connection

By Salah Uddin Shoaib Choudhury - February 22, 2023

Dictatorship and fascism are deep-rooted in the blood of Rahul Gandhi, leader of the Indian National Congress (INC), a political party in India that has been historically promoting authoritarian rule while romancing with Islamists and jihadists. Here is another shocking piece of information – Rahul Gandhi maintains deeper connections with Colombian drug cartels.

While according to the Hindustan Times, on February 21, 2023, Rahul Gandhi claimed that India has become a fascist nation under Narendra Modi's regime, the majority of the people in the world are totally unaware of the fact that Rahul's maternal grandfather was a Nazi soldier.

In an interview with the Italian daily newspaper Corriere della Sera, Rahul Gandhi said, "Fascism is already there. Democratic structures collapse. Parliament is no longer working. I haven't been able to speak for two years; as soon as I speak, they take my microphone off. The balance of power is off. Justice is not independent. Centralism is absolute. The press is no longer free".

When asked if Prime Minister Narendra Modi could be defeated in the next election, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi expressed confidence in Opposition unity, claiming that the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) would be "defeated completely" if the other parties banded together.

In an exclusive interview with the Indian newspaper Outlook Magazine in 1998, Outlook Magazine's new [link here] Sonia Gandhi's father, Stefano Eugene Maino expressed unwavering loyalty to Mussolini and Italy's fascist past. Maino did not regret his support for the fascist leader instead he was immensely proud of fighting against the Russian Red Army alongside Hitler's Wehrmacht on the Eastern Front in World War II.

The Outlook Magazine Outlook Magazine's [new link] interview also noticed Stefano Maino's house is festooned with leather-bound speeches and writings of Italian fascist Benito Mussolini who teamed up with Adolf Hitler and presided over the unprecedented massacre of innocent people, mostly Jews during the Holocaust.

Maino also held vague views of the then-Italian politicians, saying that "the current Italian government was composed of a bunch of traitors who had betrayed Mussolini and the Fatherland". Wistfully longing for Mussolini's rule in Italy, Stefano Maino had said that the current crop of Italian politicians was all hopeless except the neo-fascist front. He also advocated authoritarian measures such as forced sterilization.

Rahul Gandhi's paternal grandfather Feroze Jehangir Ghandy [not Gandhi] was born on 12 September 1912 to a Parsi family [not Hindu]. Being inspired by Mahatma Gandhi, Feroze changed the spelling of his surname from "Ghandy" to "Gandhi".

Feroze first proposed to Indira in 1933, but she and her mother rejected it, putting forward that she was too young, only 16. In the following years, Indira and Feroze grew closer to each other while in England. They were dating until getting married in March 1942 according to Hindu rituals. But, Feroze Gandhi did not convert to the Hindu religion. Indira's father Jawaharlal Nehru opposed her marriage to a non-Hindu and approached Mahatma Gandhi to dissuade the young couple, but to no avail.

Who is Sonia Gandhi's biological father?

Although everyone in India knows Rahul Gandhi's mother as Sonia Gandhi, according to official documents, her real name is Hedvige Antonia Albina Moina. Though she married Rajiv Gandhi, Antonia Albina alias Sonia did not officially change her title to 'Gandhi'.

Hedvige Antonia Albina Moina alias Sonia's father Stefano Eugene Maino was arrested near St. Petersburg in Russia being a Nazi collaborator and was imprisoned for 20 years. Later he became a member of the Soviet spy agency KGB and his imprisonment was reduced to 4 years. On his return from a Russian prison, Stefano Eugene Maino gave a Russian named 'Sonia' to his daughter. Most interestingly, Stefano Eugene Maino is not even Sonia's biological father as before two years of her birth, Stefano Eugene Maino was in jail, and remained imprisoned until she was two years old. To date, no one knows the identity of Sonia's biological father.

Sonia's mother is Paula Maino.

Sonia Gandhi's Birthplace

Sonia claims she was born in Bassano, near Turin in Italy. However, as per her birth certificate, she was actually born in Luciana, on the borders of Switzerland. A resort town for Hitler's Nazi soldiers during the war.

Sonia Gandhi's Education

Sonia Gandhi lied about her educational background. Initially, she claimed to have studied at Cambridge University, but later she submitted an affidavit stating she had studied English at Bell Education Trust at Cambridge. Both of these claims are false.

She falsely claimed in her affidavit filed as a contesting candidate before the Rae Bareilly Returning Officer during the 2004 Lok Sabha election, stating that she obtained a diploma in English from the prestigious University of Cambridge in the United Kingdom.

The reality is – Sonia Gandhi never studied in any college. She attended a Catholic-run seminary school named Maria Ausiliatrice in Giaveno [15 km from her adopted hometown of Orbassano]. Poverty during those days forced young Italian girls to go to such missionaries and then in their teens go to the UK to get jobs as cleaning maids, waitresses, and au pairs.

Sonia Gandhi's father [not her biological father] was a mason and her mother was a sharecropper. She went to the town of Cambridge and first learned some English in a teaching shop named Lennox School, which has since 1970 been wound up.

Sonia first met Rajiv Gandhi when he came to the restaurant in 1965. Rajiv was a student at an university, but could not cope with the academic rigor for long. So he had to depart in 1966 for London where he was briefly at the Imperial College of Engineering as a student.

Sonia too moved to London, and according to information, got a job with an outfit run by Salman Thassir, a debonair Pakistani based in Lahore, who has an export-import company headquartered in Dubai but who spends most of his time in London.

Rape allegations against Rahul Gandhi

According to several reports in the media, Rahul Gandhi was accused of raping a Hindu female named Sukanya Devi.

According to allegations, Sukanya Devi, daughter of a Congress worker named Balram Singh, was a big fan of Rahul Gandhi. It was alleged that when Rahul Gandhi was partying with his friends in Amethi Guest House, Sukanya had gone there to meet him, where she was raped by Rahul and his 7 friends, 2 of whom were from Britain and 2 others from Italy. Apparently, she somehow escaped after the incident and approached several people but nobody came forward to help. The allegations say that Sukanya Devi, her father Balram Singh, and her mother Sumitra Devi met Sonia Gandhi and the Human Rights Commission, and after that, the whole family went missing. It is also alleged that a videographer named Dhruvad and a cameraman from a news channel who had recorded the statement of Sukanya, also went missing after that.

Later, leaders of the Indian National Congress flatly denied the allegation stating it was a conspiracy. In an interview, Samajwadi Party leader Kishore Samrite, who had earlier filed a petition in 2011 with the Indian apex court seeking an investigation into the rape allegation claimed that he was "used" by Mulayam Singh Yadav and other leaders of the party were also forced by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) to drag the names of Narendra Modi, Amit Shah, BJP, and RSS into the Sukanya rape case. However, Kishore Samrite maintained his stand stating the incident of rape took place.

This serious matter was totally suppressed by the media, because of the influence of the Gandhi family and the Indian National Congress. Only a few social media activists continued reporting this matter, while in 2011 when SP MLA Kishore Samrite raised the matter in 2011, the media had no option other than to report this rape allegation. Kishore Samrite filed a case with the Allahabad High Court seeking a probe into the allegation of rape and disappearance of the alleged victim Sukanya Devi, her parents, and other members of the family. The MLA further said that when he went to the village, he found the home of the victim's family was abandoned and the neighbors were unaware of their mysterious disappearance, immediately after Sukanya and her parents met Sonia Gandhi.

Subsequently, state machinery played a role in suppressing the whole issue.

Rahul Gandhi's connections with Colombian drug cartel

Meanwhile, according to media reports, Rahul Gandhi was arrested along with his girlfriend Veronique Cartelli, daughter of a Colombian Drug Mafia at Logan Airport in Boston with a suitcase filled with cash amounting to US$160,000. The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) intercepted Rahul and his girlfriend suspecting the cash was to be used for terror funding or was drug money laundered into the US.

Rahul called his mother Sonia Gandhi in India. In turn, Sonia called Brijesh Mishra, the former National Security Advisor and a key aide to former prime minister Atal Behari Vajpayee at the Prime Minister's Office. Brijesh Mishra intervened on behalf of the Indian Prime Minister Vajpayee with the US Administration for the release of Rahul from FBI custody. Brijesh Mishra had strong connections with Sonia Gandhi's Italian family through his daughter Jyotsna.

Jyotsna is married to an Italian and lives in Italy. Subsequently, Rahul Gandhi was released only when the Indian Ambassador intervened and gave assurances to the State Department that Rahul Gandhi will be produced for any future inquiry by the FBI.

Rahul Gandhi's love affair with Colombian drug mafia's daughter

According to information, Veronique Cartelli met Rahul Gandhi when he was studying at Cambridge. She was with Rahul Gandhi when Rahul came to India in 1998 for a maiden rally of his mother Sonia. People claimed that she was with Rahul's family during the family vacations in Kerala, Lakshadweep, etc. Rahul had a long relationship with her. However, when Rahul started taking an active interest in politics, Veronique Cartelli was not seen in India since 2004.
